

To whom it may concern:

I have known Kristy Scott for over eight years and in that time she babysat for my sons Austin and Ethan. As a Mental Health Counselor, having excellent child care is very important to me. I could not ask for better protection and safety in a daycare. She always treated my kids like they were her own. I also want to speak to her enthusiasm for kids. She has built her whole life around making kids happy and helping them feel special. My son always asks to go her house and play. Sometimes he will even ask me to go out so that Kristy can watch him. Kristy is creative when it comes to playing with them and she understands how important exercise and going outside are to our children.

Sincerely yours,
